GET - /jobs/{id}?fields={partialResponseFields}&type={type}&include={includeEmptyFields}

OAuth:

Client Credentials, Tech Pro, or owning Customer

Abstract:

Gives information about a company, specified by its ID number.

Parameters:

id - Mandatory. The ID number of the job that the caller wishes to receive info about.

partialResponseFields - Optional. Set this to a comma separated list of fields to receive only the fields desired.

type - Optional.

includeEmptyFields - Optional. A value of "non_empty" will cause this method to return only non-empty fields, any other value (or if the parameter is omitted) will return both empty and non-empty fields.

Payload:

OAuth:

Client Credentials, Tech Pro

Abstract:

Searches for jobs. All of the parameters are optional, and if all are omitted, it will return a list of the freshest jobs. If customerId is set the search will be handed differently.

Parameters:

jobTitle - Optional. If present it will search for jobs of a specific title.

count - Optional. Specifies how many jobs to return.

location - Optional. Searches for jobs at a particular location. This should be a geocode.

distance - Optional. Searches for jobs within a particular radial distance.

q - Optional. The query to search for jobs with, such as java or basket+weaving facet - Optional. If you want to facet your queries. Gets passed to the backend without much modification.

pfacet - Optional. If you want to pfacet your queries. Gets passed to the backend without much modification.

filter - Optional. Filters your search based on your criteria. Field names should match either what is in our backend or certain others which get translated. Gets passed to the backend without much other modification. Example: filter=city:Chicago fields - Optional. Fields to return from the search results. Useful if you don't want everything. Field names should match what is returned, not what is stored in our back end. Example: fields=position sort - Optional. The field to sort on, either ascending or descending. Field names should match what is stored in our backend, not what is returned. Example: sort=jobTitle+asc customerId - Optional. If present it will search for jobs from a particular customer instead of just a general search.

partialResponseFields - Optional. Set this to a comma separated list of fields to receive only the fields desired.

expand - Optional. If true additional data will be returned.

includeEmptyFields - Optional. A value of non_empty will cause this method to return only non-empty fields, any other value (or if the parameter is omitted) will return both empty and non-empty fields.

feature - Optional. If true and the next two values are also set, featured results may be included, if any are present.

fcity - Optional. If feature is set to true and fregion is also present then featured results may be included, if any are present.

fregion - Optional. If feature is set to true and fcity is also present then featured results may be included, if any are present.
